

Data protection information on the use of cookies

Cookies are small text files that your browser saves on your device at our website's command. Cookies facilitate user interactions and other expedient things when you use websites. Cookies do not damage your computer or contain viruses.

In order to make the visit to our website appealing and to enable usage of certain functions, we use technical cookies on our website.

Description and scope of data processing

On the one hand we use temporary cookies which are deleted automatically when you close your browser, and on the other so-called "persistent" (permanent) cookies, the expiry of which is set for a date in the future for your convenience. Cookies may be provided by us or by third-party providers.

The data collected from users in this way is pseudonymised. Therefore, assignment of the data to the requesting user is no longer possible. The data is not stored together with users' other personal data.

There is an important difference between technically necessary cookies, preference and statistics cookies and marketing cookies.

Technically necessary cookies help to make our website usable by enabling basic functions such as page navigation and access to secure areas of the website or, for example, to collect and provide goods in baskets. These cookies do not require the user's consent. The website cannot work properly without these cookies.

The following data is stored and transmitted in the technical cookies used on our website:

Legal basis for data processing

The legal basis for the processing of personal data using technically necessary is Article 6(1)(f)

Purpose of data processing

The purpose of using technically necessary cookies is to make the website easier for users to use. Some functions of our website cannot be offered without the use of these cookies. These services require, for example, that the browser is recognised again after a page change.

We have a legitimate interest in data processing for these purposes in accordance with Article 6(1)(f) GDPR for the use of cookies not requiring consent.

The user data collected by the technically necessary cookies are not used to create user profiles.

Duration of storage

Cookies are stored on the user's computer, which transmits them to our website. "Session cookies" are automatically deleted after 24 hours, cookie for the shop functionality after 20 days.

Right to object and right to rectification

You, as the user have full control over the use of cookies. You can deactivate or restrict the transfer of cookies by changing the settings in your Internet browser. Cookies which have already been saved may be deleted at any time.

If you disable cookies for our website, it may no longer be possible to fully use all the website's functions.
